Promoting public health research, policy, practice, and education is the mission of the American Journal of Public Health. As we widen our scope to embrace global issues, we also sharpen our focus to support the needs of public health practitioners. We invite contributions of original unpublished research, opinion and commentary, departments, and letters to the editor.

The Journal is printed on acid-free recycled paper.

Cover. The cover photograph this month was provided by the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health. It features Anthony Trochez beside a mobile billboard with an antismoking message just prior to his participation in a news conference on February 22, 2005, in Hollywood, California. Trochez and several Los Angeles County public health officials joined more than 20 nations in a worldwide protest against the lack of action and silence on the issue of smoking in movies. The moving billboards traversed Los Angeles County the week before the Academy Awards and targeted major studios and entertainment venues.

Cover concept and selection: Alesiha Kropf. Photograph by Rene Macura, Los Angeles County Department of Public Health.

Partial support for this issue was provided by the Youth Tobacco Cessation Collaborative (YTCC), which is funded by the American Cancer Society (ACS), American Legacy Foundation, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), National Cancer Institute (NCI), National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.
