Promoting public health research, policy, practice, and education is the mission of the American Journal of Public Health. As we widen our scope to embrace global issues, we also sharpen our focus to support the needs of public health practitioners. We invite contributions of original unpublished research, opinion and commentary, departments, and letters to the editor.

The Journal is printed on acid-free recycled paper and is mailed in recyclable plastic.

Cover. The cover this month features a stylized image of the hepatitis virus. The glycogen protein and lipid envelope, or coat, are semi-transparent, revealing the inner structure of the virus.

Printed with permission of Corbis, Creative Professionals. Cover concept and selection by Aleisha Kropf.
